N.E.A. BULLETIN

Vol. IV, No. 7

June 1916

Whole Number 22

Entered as second-class matter March 22, 1913, at the post-office at Ann Arbor, Michigan, under the Act of August 24, 1912. Published September, December, January, February, April and June, by the National Education Association of the United States. Office of publication, Ann Arbor, Michigan.

NATIONAL EDUCATION ASSOCIATION, NEW YORK CITY, JULY 1-8, 1916

SUGGESTIONS

Can you use more of the June Bulletins in advertising the New York meeting? If so, send a request to the Secretary indicating the number desired.

The New York meeting offers a splendid opportunity for teachers to spend the summer vacation in the East in attendance upon the meeting, in studying the problems centering in the largest city of this country, and in taking advantage of the opportunities presented for summer-school work. Several of the large institutions in the East postponed the opening of their summer schools until July 10 so that this would be possible. Columbia University, New York University, Harvard University, Syracuse University, and Hamilton College begin on the 10th. Cornell University will accept any of the teachers who have been in attendance upon the meetings of the National Education Association on July 10, altho their regular opening day will be July 5.

If you are contemplating attending the New York meeting, get in touch with your local ticket agent as early as possible, for the purpose of finding out what railroad ticket arrangements are available from your city. Three different forms of tickets will be used depending upon the jurisdiction of the passenger association in which you may be living. From some sections, a short-time ticket will be sold beginning June 29, good to return until July 12. From other sections, the time limit will be thirty days and from still other sections sixty days. In some territories two of these three forms will be available. It is well that you get this information in advance. In some places, it will be necessary for the ticket agents to secure from a near-by center the ticket that will be used.

Make your hotel reservations in advance. This suggestion is made not because there will be any lack of room in New York City, but because, if such reservations are made, you can go directly to your hotel on arrival and save the annoyance of looking up a place. The hotels that are listed in this issue of the Bulletin guarantee the rates as per the schedule. However, it is possible in almost every case to secure a lower rate for parties than that quoted. If you desire any special information along the line of party rates, write John R. Young, Merchants Association, New York, N. Y.

The registration and information headquarters will be located at Madison Square Garden, which occupies the block bounded by Madison and Fourth Avenues and 26th and 27th Streets. These will be opened on Wednesday, June 28.

General headquarters have been assigned as follows: Hotel Astor—New York and New England; Hotel Waldorf Astoria—Pennsylvania, New Jersey, and the Southeastern States; Hotel McAlpin—the Middle and Western States. As will be noted in the program, some of the departments and organizations have established headquarters in other hotels.

The first meeting will be that of the National Council of Education, on Saturday afternoon, July 1. The first general session will be held Monday afternoon, July 3. Educational Sunday will be observed in a number of the more prominent churches.

The Official Program and Guide Book will be issued together this year and can be obtained at the registration headquarters together with the badge of admission. Special maps are being prepared for the teachers.

Consult the program immediately on its receipt in order that you may observe any changes which may have been made from the program as printed in this Bulletin.

The Secretary recently spent a week in New York with representatives of the various educational institutions and associations and with the committees that have been formed. The local arrangements are progressing finely. Be sure to consult that portion of the Official Program relating to social functions. It has been impossible to give a very complete list of them in this Bulletin.

Active members will please remember that at five o'clock on Monday afternoon, July 3, following the regular afternoon general session, they will meet by states in their respective state headquarters, or, where headquarters are not maintained, at such places as will be designated on the program, for the purpose of selecting a member of the Nominating Committee.

Safety First.—Many persons are troubled in handling their finances on extended trips. The safest as well as the easiest way to carry funds is by means of A. B. A. Checks, issued by the fifty thousand members of the American Bankers Association, or by means of Travellers Cheques, issued by the American Express Company. They save the necessity of identification and can be used as cash practically everywhere.

Read your Bulletin thru, and then see if you cannot extend publicity for the meeting by loaning it to several of your teachers.

Persons from the West can break their trips by using, if desired, water lines between Detroit or Cleveland and Buffalo and between Albany and New York. Thru rail tickets are accepted by either the Detroit and Cleveland Navigation Company, the Cleveland and Buffalo Line, or the Hudson River Day Line. Where it is desired to use them for these trips, they should be exchanged at the offices of the respective boat lines before boarding the boat, notice having been given to the conductor before reaching the station at which you will leave the train, so that the conductor may make the proper record. In many cases, it will be possible to save money by spending a little time in inquiry as to the various travel routes to New York. It will be worth while as well to inquire concerning the various stop-over privileges which are offered, as in this way it may be possible for one to see Niagara Falls, Chautauqua, Albany, Philadelphia, or Washington, in addition to other places not enumerated.

NOTES

The American Library Association will hold its Thirty-Eighth Annual Conference at Asbury Park, N. J., June 26 to July 1. The time and place was agreed upon in order that a large number of persons who are members of both the Library Association and the National Education Association might be able to attend both meetings. The program of the Library Association will feature "Democracy in Education—Its Effect Upon Public, University, and School Libraries, and the Influence Which Libraries May Exert in a Democracy." Numerous section meetings and round tables will be conducted on such subjects as "Library Training," "Library Work with Children," "Duties of Library Trustees," "College and Reference Work," "Cataloging and Classification," "Agricultural College Libraries," "State and Law Libraries," "Library Extension thru the Work of State Commissions, Business Libraries, etc." Those who desire to attend both meetings should secure a round-trip ticket to Asbury Park, which will permit of a return via New York. From some sections of the country, tickets may be purchased to New York, which permit side trips to, and stop-over privileges at, Asbury Park. Persons desiring to attend both meetings should consult their local ticket agent some time in advance. The May Bulletin of the American Library Association will contain further particulars as to the program and will be sent free on application to the American Library Association, 78 East Washington Street, Chicago, Ill.

The next meeting of the Department of Superintendence will be held in Kansas City, from February 26 to March 3, 1917. Hotels Baltimore and Muehlebach have been designated as headquarters. The general meetings will be held in the Convention Hall, where the commercial exhibits and registration will be centered. It is suggested that time will be saved if persons desiring to make advance reservations will communicate directly with Superintendent I. I. Cammack, who has been furnished a list of all the hotel accommodations, so that he will be able to give all available information first hand. Many persons by not following similar advice in connection with the Detroit meeting were obliged to write four and five times before finally securing the accommodations they desired. In writing Superintendent Cammack, please be sure to indicate the character of reservation you wish and the price you desire to pay.

The annual meeting will be of especial interest to one member of the N. E. A., James Cruikshank, former principal of School No. 12, Brooklyn, who retired from active work in 1906. Those familiar with the history of the Association will remember that in 1857 a call was issued by the presidents of ten state teachers' associations for a meeting to be held in Philadelphia, August 26, for the purpose of organizing a national association. At that meeting, forty-three persons were present, representing twelve states. The National Teachers Association was organized, the name being changed in 1870 to the National Educational Association, and later in 1907 to the National Education Association of the United States. Mr. Cruikshank is the only present member of the Association who was at the Philadelphia meeting, and, so far as we are able to learn, is the only person now living who was present. At that time, he was living in Albany, N. Y., having begun teaching in 1848. He has lived in Brooklyn since 1866.

The Proceedings of the Detroit meeting of the Department of Superintendence have been issued in an advance reprint form as Volume 4, No. 6, May, 1916. They may be obtained from the Secretary at twenty-five cents a copy.

The announcements of the winners of the Contest on Thrift in the Public Schools will be made at New York. Those essays which have survived the first five readings are now in the hands of the final Board of Judges. The September Bulletin will contain a full announcement of the result.

RAILROAD RATES FOR NEW YORK.

New York is situated within the territory of the Trunk Line Association, which Association has authorized a short-time rate of two cents a mile in each direction, with minimum of one dollar for the round trip, on the certificate plan, going and returning via the same route only. Going tickets in connection with certificates will be sold June 29 and 30 and July 1 at one-way fares applicable to New York City. Certificates are to be endorsed by D. W. Springer, Secretary, N. E. A., and then validated by H. C. Blye, special agent of the Trunk Line Association. Endorsement and validation will both be made at the headquarters office of the Secretary of the Association in Madison Square Garden.

The certificates should be endorsed at the time of registration. Mr. Blye will be present July 5, 6, and 7, from nine in the morning until six in the afternoon, for the purpose of validating certificates. No fee will be charged for validation. These are the only days in which the certificates may be validated. Return tickets, limited to continuous passage, will be sold on the presentation of validated certificates from July 5 to July 11, at the difference between the fare paid on the going trip and the fare for the round trip at the reduced rate. Destination must be reached not later than July 12, so far as the territory of the Trunk Line Association is concerned.

The Central Passenger Association has authorized the sale of a short-time ticket based on the action of the Trunk Line Association.

The New England Passenger Association has authorized a reduced rate based on the fares announced by the Trunk Line Association.

The Eastern Canadian Passenger Association has authorized a reduced rate based on the fares announced by the New England Passenger Association and the Trunk Line Association.

The Southeastern Passenger Association, the Southwestern Passenger Association, and the Western Passenger Association have not authorized any short time rates.

From some of the territories, a thirty-day summer excursion rate ticket will be in effect, and from other sections a sixty-day summer excursion rate ticket will be sold. From the territory of the Trans-Continental Passenger Association, a three-months' rate ticket will be available. It will pay the members to find out from their local ticket agents immediately the various possible rates and routes.

SUMMER SCHOOLS

NEW YORK UNIVERSITY

The Summer School will open on Monday, July 10, following the close of the N. E. A. Two hundred courses are offered in a wide range of subjects including principles of education, methods of teaching, commercial subjects, art, home economics, domestic art, education of defectives, high-school journalism, kindergarten methods, administration of the Gary System, music, etc. Members of the Summer School may occupy rooms in the college dormitories during the N. E. A. week on payment of a small additional fee. For bulletins giving full information, address, James E. Lough, Director of Summer School, Washington Square, New York City.

The Demonstration School of the department for training teachers of backward and defective children, enrolling about one hundred children, will be open for observation on July 6 and July 7. Appointments will be made for teachers and school officials to consult with members of the Faculty. A special circular will be issued by the University giving details.

COLUMBIA UNIVERSITY

Columbia University, which covers several large city blocks at Morningside Heights, 116th Street and Broadway, and is reached directly by the subway and surface cars from all parts of the city, will be in session in the summer from July 10 to August 18. The buildings will be open for inspection during the week of the visit of the National Education Association. North of 116th Street are the Memorial Library, St. John's Chapel, Earl Hall, and many buildings assigned to instruction, laboratories, and scientific collections. To the west of Broadway is Barnard College, and to the north of 120th Street are the buildings of Teachers College and the Horace Mann School. Over six thousand students will assemble for the six weeks' summer session which Columbia now regards as one of its three sessions. The campus and the green will witness as great activity as prevails in the winter. The students come from all parts of the United States and from foreign countries. The entire university takes part in the summer session. In fact, Teachers College and the Department of Education give as much attention to the courses of this session as to those of the winter and spring. All the schools are represented in the courses offered. The Law School, the Medical School, the scientific schools, and the graduate school, all alike vie in placing their advantages before the students who come to Columbia in summer. Announcements may be secured from James E. Egbert, Director, Summer School.

Under the direction of the American Social Hygiene Association, courses in the correlation of sex hygiene and directed recreation will be offered to teachers and social workers at the rooms of the Training School of the Young Women's Christian Association, 600 Lexington Avenue, New York, N. Y., from July 10 to July 29. Information concerning courses may be procured by writing to William F. Snow, General Secretary, 105 West 40th Street, New York City.

Harvard University has placed the opening of its summer session for July 10, in order that teachers in attendance upon the New York meeting of the National Education Association may find it possible to take advantage of the courses which it will offer. Definite information with regard to the same may be obtained by addressing Henry W. Holmes, Division of Education, Harvard University, Cambridge, Mass.

Information with regard to the summer sessions at Hamilton College, Syracuse University, or Cornell University may be secured by addressing the deans of their summer schools.

NEW YORK ARRANGEMENTS

Hotel arrangements have never been better than in New York. A study of the list which follows will show rates on both European and American plans. Accommodations of every grade are listed and the Merchants' Association becomes sponsor for the character of the hotels named and for the service which will be given. You will note their suggestion that advance reservations be made as early as possible. In New York these should be made directly with the hotels.

It has been suggested that members of the Association will do well to patronize the hotels listed. It is especially suggested that no attention be paid to what is known as the licensed public porter who is to be found at the New York railway terminals and steamship piers. These porters cannot be trusted in the representations which they make. Select your hotel in advance and you will have no difficulty in being well taken care of.

The school exhibits will largely be centered in Washington Irving High School. Live exhibits in the form of regular classes will be carried on during the week. Thursday afternoon, at half-past one, the students of the school will conduct an assembly as is regularly done during the school year. The library exhibit will be in the Washington Irving High School and the New York Public Library. The exhibits relating to the work of teachers of special classes of children will be found in Public School No. 27.

An interesting feature of the general session will be the half-hour devoted to music preceding the regular program. This will be under the direction of Frank R. Rix, director of music, public schools, New York City.

The Teachers of the City of New York will tender a reception to the visitors at a place to be named in the official program, Monday evening, July 3, following the general session.

HOTEL SCHEDULE

Hotels listed herein guarantee their rates as per the schedule. In no instance has the rate been advanced beyond the regular tariff and in many cases reductions have been made. Where one amount is named, it is the minimum rate. These hotels are especially recommended by the Merchants' Association of New York and the Hotel Men's Association of New York City, as well as by the General Committee to prepare for the New York Convention.

We strongly advise that reservations be made in advance, in order that there may be no misunderstanding as to accommodations and rates. Inquiries to any one of these hotels will receive their prompt and careful attention.

Under the direction of the Department of School Administration, a luncheon will be held in honor of President David B. Johnson in the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel, from 12:15 to 1:45, on Wednesday, July 5. An opportunity will be offered for persons interested in school work to secure tickets for this luncheon at a booth near the entrance to the Empire Room, on the main floor of the Waldorf, on Monday and Tuesday. It is necessary that the management know by Tuesday night the number for which provision must be made. All are invited to the limit of capacity. If you desire to go, secure your ticket early.

The United Catholic Works of New York, with a membership of two thousand public-school teachers, will tender a reception to the N. E. A. visitors at a time and place to be announced in the official program.

The Junior League of the City of New York is a prominent philanthropic organization. Under its auspices is conducted the Junior League House. This building accommodates over three hundred guests and is used exclusively by women. It is located at 78th Street and East River, in the so-called "Avenue A" property, where are to be found the model tenements of the city. They have offered to accommodate a number of the teachers at a very low rate.

The harbor boat ride is being planned for Saturday, July 8. Tickets for the same will be secured thru the various state directors at times which will be announced in the official program.

Members of the Association are invited to attend the recital which will be given by Professor Baldwin at the College of the City of New York on Friday afternoon. While this is furnished primarily for the members of the Music Department, others will be welcome.

The officers of the Metropolitan Museum of Art and the American Museum of Natural History extend a cordial invitation to the members to visit their buildings at such times during the week as they are able to. Cordial invitations have been extended by the officials of Hunter College and the College of the City of New York for members to make as much use of their buildings as possible. Arrangements will be made to show visitors thru the buildings.

We had prepared for this Bulletin an extended account of the Museum of French Art which is under the jurisdiction of the French Institute in the United States. In the final make-up of the Bulletin, this statement, as well as several other announcements, were necessarily abbreviated owing to lack of room. The Museum is organizing an exhibition of French art to be held in its gallery, 599 Fifth Avenue, at 48th Street. This will be open to the members of the N. E. A. during the entire week, special tickets being provided for them. We are sure that the members will find this exhibition a most valuable place to visit.

A special invitation has been extended the members to visit the George Gray Barnard Gothic Cloisters, which is America's first Gothic museum. The Cloisters are located at 454 Fort Washington Avenue at 189th Street. Mr. Barnard had gathered during many years of study and travel in France a great collection of sculptures and erected this building to house them.

The Young Women's Christian Association extends an invitation to the teachers to make use of their national headquarters, Lexington Avenue and 52nd Street. They also announce that a rest room and information desk may be found at 29 West 36th Street, between Fifth and Sixth Avenues, where a continuous cafeteria service will be found between half-past ten in the morning and eight in the evening. This has been opened as a demonstration cafeteria for the Associations thruout the country, and as a practical training school for women with technical education, who wish to secure experience in cafeteria management.

A Montessori School in the model open-stair tenement, 520 East 77th Street, will be open daily for visitors between nine and twelve in the forenoon of the N. E. A. week. The rooms will be open for inspection during the afternoons with a graduate attendant in charge.

During the entire week of the meeting, Columbia University will be open from four until six o'clock in the afternoon. Guides will be provided by the University to show the collections and libraries. An information booth will be located on South Court.

New York University will tender a garden party to the N. E. A. visitors on the afternoon of Friday, July 7, from five to seven o'clock. This party will be held on the University Campus at University Heights, adjoining the Hall of Fame and the Memorial Library. In case of inclement weather, the party will be held in the rotunda of the Memorial Library.

The Teachers Council of the City of New York will tender a reception to the officers and members of the N. E. A. at the Hall of Education following the general session, Wednesday afternoon, July 5. The Teachers Council is an elective organization representing the various other teachers' organizations of the city. It is unique by reason of the method of election.

Thursday afternoon, at half-past four, a Story Telling Hour will be held on the campus of Columbia University. The program for the same appears in the Department of Kindergarten Education. While this is given primarily for the kindergartners, other members are invited.

The Institute for Public Service proposes to arrange a series of breakfast conferences, in case a sufficient number of visiting teachers desire to get together in that manner, for the purpose of asking definite questions as to New York's method of dealing with concrete school problems. If any persons desire to attend such meetings, they will communicate with William H. Allen, Director, Institute for Public Service, 51 Chambers Street, New York City. Mr. Allen is also preparing for a meeting at which the method by which New York is experimenting with duplicate schools will be discussed by means of questions and answers. If you desire further information with regard to that meeting, write to him.

The Teachers' Section of the New York State Woman Suffrage party is arranging a dinner for Thursday evening, July 6, at half-past five o'clock. Definite announcements as to the time and place will be given in the official program. It is expected that Carrie Chapman Catt and Anna Shaw, together with a number of other noted speakers, will be present. The regular headquarters of the Teachers' Section is at Room 2015, 303 Fifth Avenue. These headquarters are open each day from nine in the morning until five in the afternoon. The New York City Woman Suffrage party has its headquarters at 48 East 34th Street, where luncheon will be served from twelve to two o'clock each day.

The School Garden Association of America extends a cordial invitation to the members of the Association to witness the pageant which will be given in the Botanical Garden, Bronx Park, Friday afternoon, at half-past two. In case of inclement weather, it will be given on Saturday afternoon, at two o'clock.

Tuesday afternoon, July 4, there will be a mass demonstration of physical training and athletics in the Stadium of the College of the City of New York under the direction of C. Ward Crampton, director of physical training in the public schools. This demonstration will begin at half-past two and last for two hours. IRWIN SHEPARD, Secretary of the National Education Association from 1893 to 1912, passed away April 17 at his home in Winona, Minn., at the age of seventy-two.

He was intimately associated with the National Education Association for more years than any other man has ever been. It was his distinguished service as non-salaried Secretary that led to the creation of the office of paid Secretary, in which capacity he was ranked as one of the most efficient executive secretaries in the United States. It was during his term of office that practically the entire Permanent Fund was accumulated, and in those years, largely thru his advice, not an investment of those funds was made that was of doubtful value.

Dr. Shepard will long be associated with the National Education Association as William T. Harris will be with the United States Bureau of Education.

D. B. JOHNSON, President, National Education Association.

D. W. SPRINGER, Secretary, National Education Association.
